

Why Radiesse Has Become THE Dermal Filler

A wrinkle, a promise, a needle and voila! Instant return of smooth and younger skin.

Original wrinkle fillers were bovine collagen derivatives. They required pre-testing, lasted a few months at best and at any point in time you could have an allergic response. Not great, but it was the only thing available.

Enter human collagen. Much safer, no pre-tests, with longevity barely improved.

Then came hyaluronic acid fillers – Restylane, Juvederm, Perlane. Much better, no pre-tests, practically sensitivity-free with staying power of 6 months or longer.

What if a product could do more and last longer?

If dermatologists could have special-ordered a multi-application product with staying power, it would have been Radiesse. Radiesse is a long term, instant wrinkle and fold corrector, a volume augmentation “implant” and a rhinoplasty in a syringe.

Total Dermatology Medical Director and Board Certified Dermatologist Nissan Pilest, MD, is extremely satisfied with this unique and diversified skin filling and shaping agent. “It just doesn’t get any better than this,” Dr. Pilest told us. “Radiesse easily lasts a year and in many cases up to two depending on injection location. It’s natural, soft, and encourages your own collagen production to actually reverse collagen loss from aging.”

Radiesse is perfect for deep nasolabial folds; augmentation of cheeks or chin – an injectable facial implant without the surgery; reshaping and refining the contours and profile of the nose – an injectable nose job in about 15 minutes.

It is the ideal “foundation” product when layering is required to complete fine wrinkle correction with Juvederm or Cosmoderm .

Dr. Pilest’s patients particularly like the long lasting effects. Potential Rhinoplasty patients are absolutely delighted with the dramatic improvement just a small touch of the product provides.

Radiesse is actually an injectable implant material as the consistency and formulation is quite different from fillers per se. Radiesse is composed of a calcium based material that is like the calcium in bones and teeth, making it extremely compatible with the body. The formulation keeps the tiny calcium spheres in place while your own collagen surrounds and supports them. The softness and natural feel are in part your own new natural collagen strands.

Dr. Pilest is one of only 86 members of a specially selected Medical Education Faculty for Bioform, the makers of Radiesse. He is responsible for training other physicians in the proper techniques of product use. Dr. Pilest was chosen for his experience of nearly 3 decades and his recognition as a Master Level Injection Specialist.
